Description:

Height x Width: 1.5 x 1.5 m

Habit: Spreading habit.

Stems & leaves: With very thin weak brown stems and small pale green leaves.

Panicles: Small but dense rounded heads 100 x 100mm, with 100% cover of many small sterile flowers with well separated white sepals on long pedicels, giving a very attractive feathery, starry appearance. The sepals can also have greenish and cream tones.

Overall assessment: Very slow growing. The panicles are attractive but stems are far too weak and it requires careful pruning to create a supportive framework.

Origins: Jean Renault made crosses in 1998 in France, between unnamed proprietary plants of paniculata and this early flowering plant was selected in 2005
